

RIDGELINE

RIDGELINE

[rij-lahyn]

noun

1. A line formed along the highest points of a mountain ridge.
2. An area of higher ground separating two adjacent streams or watersheds.

Welcome to Ridgeline - established in 2019 to cater to the training and support the needs of Military, Law Enforcement, and Civilian clients. Based in Dalton, NH, our Ridgeline Training Center serves as our operational hub. It offers unique training experiences such as Long-Range Precision Rifle shooting on a 1200-yard mountain wind course, engaging moving targets from a multi-story sniper tower, and practicing with pistol and carbine platforms around vehicles and structures.

Our exceptional courses utilize exclusive infrastructure, featuring over 400 steel targets, moving target systems, and more. Our skilled instructors, with over 100 years of combined Military and Law Enforcement Special Operations experience, form the Ridgeline Defense Cadre. They specialize in various areas, delivering instruction based on proven tactics and real-world know-how. Our Mobile Training Team (MTT) can also bring our curriculum to you.

Ridgeline Outfitters, an offshoot of our training business, offers a range of products from firearms to night vision and accessories. As our student volume exposes product shortcomings, we've developed solutions like the Ridgeline HOG Leash sling and DrOP Magazine mount. In this catalog, you'll find featured courses that exemplify our commitment to top-notch instruction, expert cadre, and an excellent client experience.

WELCOME TO THE RIDGELINE.
